Is it possible to become the sister of Babylon?

We have never had the prophecy concerning Babylon applied to the Seventh-day Adventist Church, or been informed that the "loud cry" consisted in calling God's people to come out of her; for this is not God's plan concerning Israel. {RH, October 3, 1893 par. 12}

We must as a people arouse and cleanse the camp of Israel. Licentiousness, unlawful intimacy, and unholy practices are coming in among us in a large degree; and ministers who are handling sacred things are guilty of sin in this respect. They are coveting their neighbors' wives, and the seventh commandment is broken. We are in danger of becoming a sister to fallen Babylon, of allowing our churches to become corrupted, and filled with every foul spirit, a cage for every unclean and hateful bird; and will we be clear unless we make decided movements to cure the existing evil? {21MR 380.1}

- Author of What Does It Mean For the World To Have One Mind?
- Bible Worker, Evangelist, Pastor, Church Planter

Dear Reader,

I open up with these quotes:

“The track of truth lies close beside the track of error, and both tracks may seem to be one to minds which are not worked by the Holy Spirit, and which, therefore, are not quick to discern the difference between truth and error.” {1SM 202.2}

“Every wind of doctrine will be blowing. Everything that can be shaken will be shaken and only those things that cannot be shaken will remain. Satan is making the most desperate efforts to induce souls to range under his banner, and all who yield to his deceptions will wage war against the servants of Prince Immanuel. Watchfulness and prayer must be our safeguards in these days of peril.” {RH, November 6, 1883 par. 15}

“The days are fast approaching when there will be great perplexity and confusion. Satan, clothed in angel robes, will deceive, if possible, the very elect. There will be gods many and lords many. Every wind of doctrine will be blowing.” {RH, January 11, 1887 par. 4}

When she wrote “every wind”, God meant every wind. We have the obvious liberalizing views of righteousness by faith that are leading many out of the church (not physically) into lightly regarding the Sabbath and obedience in general. We have obvious worldliness that have led many worldly Adventists into celebration music, movie night, group sports attending, church socials that focus on entertainment usually right after the Sabbath, and so on. But what about those that see this stuff? What about those that have even physically separated themselves from such worldly SDA atmospheres, as Ellen White does pen we ought to do, and even formed their own Sabbath gatherings and mid-week service? When the word “every wind” was penned, that means “every wind”.

And what has come upon us as Historic Seventh-day Adventists is the notion that we have to get back to the way things were in the 1800’s. Unfortunately, no one lived in the 1800’s, and so we do not know exactly what the church believed by pioneer writings alone, especially as the church was rebuked for many wrong decisions during the time.

My point is that it is easy to point to a number of pioneers and say, “This is what they believed and since the ‘last 50 years would be counted as error’, we must stop believing the way we are according to the apostatized beliefs!” Unfortunately, the pioneers were not perfect. They argued a lot. So, it is easy to gather a certain number of papers pointing to being against the trinity to eliminate the Holy Spirit and even Jesus as God when it was not the number they argued about but rather how they exist. It is easy to conclude that the 2520 was the Seventh-day Adventists (not referring to Millerites) belief. It is easy to point to Turkey as being a last day country of

The mission of The Four Angels' Messages Ministry is to alert as many Seventh-day Adventists as possible to see the need of living the Three Angels' Messages, be well studied in the messages of all four angels, and get ready very soon to go and preach them. It is our belief that not only are we the last generation, but the mark is soon to be forced upon us, and publications like this shall be targeted. So while the presses can run, let us awake to our high calling despite others who want to remain asleep.

In the second and fourth angel's message God passionately warns us of Babylon's "wine of the wrath." Revelation 14:8 says "And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication." In Revelation 18:3, it says, "For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies." Babylon includes the mother, the Papacy; her daughters, all apostate protestant churches; and all false religions, atheism, and pop culture. The wine of Babylon contains Satan's lies, false doctrines, idol worship, pride, selfishness, covetousness, witchcraft, lasciviousness, and all evil that pleases the sinful flesh. Babylon through its deceptions, legislations, and persecution, causes ALL people on this planet to drink its wine except the few, the remnant of God who keep the commandments of God and possess the faith and testimonies of Jesus Christ (Revelation 12:17, 14:12).

Why is Babylon's wine called the "wine of the wrath of her fornication"? Beware, it reveals the cause and effect of drinking Babylon's wine. "Wrath" in the original Greek in the context of Revelation 14:8 and 18:3 reveals that Babylon's wine is an "inflaming wine (which either drives the drinker mad or kills him with its strength)." - Thayer's Greek Dictionary. Those who are drunk spiritually on the "inflaming wine" of Babylon become confused by its cocktail mix of truth and lies. The cause of drinking Babylon's wine is drunkenness and confusion and its direct effect is spiritual fornication against the true God of Heaven.

Currently, as we come closer to the coming of Jesus, churches, nations, governments, and the merchants of the earth are mad drunk and confused by the "wine of the wrath" of Babylon. In recent years the mother of Babylon, Papal Rome, has successfully served its "wine of the wrath" through its multifaceted initiatives and campaigns of ecumenism with every major religion through the promotion of world peace, advocacy for the poor, immigration, and climate change. Many leaders from the around the world such as the United States, France, Great Britain, Germany, and Russia have taken their "pilgrimage" to Vatican in which Pope Francis has personally been able to share his "wine of the wrath." Major corporate leaders by the likes of Apple, Facebook, Google, and ExxonMobil, along with about 100 other companies have also gone to Vatican to get some swigs of Francis' Babylonian wine.

No other religious or government leader has the power, attention, respect, and reverence from the world like Francis. He is lauded as one who has great moral authority, credibility, and trustworthiness. As the first Jesuit pope, Francis is touted as a humble, friendly, and “cool grandpa” who genuinely cares for the poor, world peace, and the environment. There is no doubt that Bible prophecy is fast fulfilling, all the world is wondering after Francis as an idol and superstar intoxicated by his wine of confusion.

Papal Rome has distanced herself from her atrocities and murderous past in which she is responsible for the death of millions of Protestant Reformers. Even though her false doctrines are the same as they were in the past, Papal Rome makes it appear that she has changed for the benefit of all mankind. “History testifies of her artful and persistent efforts to insinuate herself into the affairs of nations; and having gained a foothold, to further her own aims, even at the ruin of princes and people. [But] let it be remembered, it is the boast of Rome that she never changes. She [has] silently [grown] into power. Her doctrines are exerting their influence in legislative halls, in the churches, and in the hearts of men. She is piling up her lofty and massive structures in the secret recesses of which her former persecutions will be repeated. Stealthily and unsuspectingly she is strengthening her forces to further her own ends when the time shall come for her to strike. All that she desires is vantage ground, and this is already being given her. We shall soon see and shall feel what the purpose of the Roman element is. Whoever shall believe and obey the word of God will thereby incur reproach and persecution.” - Ellen White, Great Controversy, p. 581

According to Revelation 13:2 and 4, all those who drink Babylon's wine, regardless of rank, heritage, or creed, will worship the Beast, who is the mother of Babylon, and the Dragon who gives the Papacy its power, seat, and great authority.

Babylon's wine is nothing to play with or taste test, it will make you drunk, mad, and kill you! If those who profess to be the remnant people of God take a sip of Babylon's "wine of the wrath of her fornication", they will not only be spiritually drunk and mad but will inevitably commit spiritual fornication against the true God of Heaven. Their residency and citizenship will be in Babylon and not the Kingdom of God. Babylon is also a "habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird" - Revelation 18:2. It is impossible to hold a dual citizenship in Babylon and the Kingdom of God. You are either a citizen of Babylon or the Kingdom of God, period. "Ye CAN NOT drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils" - 1 Corinthians 10:21. Any professed remnant who defy this Biblical reality by their fruit is obviously drunken by Babylon's wine.

Even though a false Jesus is taught and accepted in Babylon, the True Jesus of the Bible is NOT in Babylon. That is why He is pleading, "Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues" - Revelation 18:4. This is an urgent plea to get out NOW before it is too late.

All the major Protestant denominations around the world, including the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventist corporate church, are sitting at the ecumenical bar of the Papacy. What do you think they are serving to ALL who sit on their bar stools? You got it, the "wine of the wrath of her fornication". So why are Protestants today, especially the Adventists at Vatican's ecumenical bar when each one comes from a history of being warned of the Papacy as the beast of Revelation? Out of all the Protestant denominations, the Seventh-day Adventists has NO excuse. The Lord has thoroughly exposed the true intentions of the Papacy and its Satanic power, but officials and the leadership of the Seventh-day Adventists have been sitting at Vatican's ecumenical bar since the 1960's until now, gulping down big shot glasses of Babylon's draft for over fifty years! Do you think they can drink so long and not be a Babylonianholics?

"Wait a minute," some may be saying, "are you calling the SDA church Babylon? Doesn't Ellen White say that it is not Babylon?" It is very accurate to say that the foundational and historic message of the Seventh-day Adventist movement in its purity can never be Babylon because it is the unadulterated truth that comes directly from the Bible. God's truth will never cause anyone to be drunk or confused. It will sober up the drunkard and set free the captives of sin and worldliness. In context of Sister White's day, the Seventh-day Adventist corporate church was not at the ecumenical bar of Vatican neither did its leadership advocate to have dialogue with the Papacy in any way. They were not drinking Babylon's wine as an organized church. But sadly, times have drastically changed over the years. "We are in danger of becoming a sister to fallen Babylon, of allowing our churches to become corrupted, and filled with every foul spirit, a cage for every unclean and hateful bird; and will we be clear unless we make decided movements to cure the existing evil?" {21MR 380.1}.

The Adventist church leadership, like Eve, out of curiosity got close to the forbidden bar of the Vatican and began to listen to their mesmerizing words about unity and collaboration projects to address world peace, disasters, and poverty. With broad friendly smiles the Papacy invited the Adventists to have a seat at their bar. A friendly voice while pouring drinks at the bar says, "See? - there is nothing to worry about. We are not as bad as your Revelation seminars depict us to be. We are actually nice.” He continues, “Look at all our charitable works around the world. You can learn from us and we can learn from you. Come on, have a seat, the drinks are on us!” They took their seats and drank and, like Eve, came back to the church’s offices and gave it to other leaders and they also drank!

Since then the Adventist church has joined themselves to multiple ecumenical projects and conferences with the Papacy and other apostate Protestants. Since 1970 the Religious Liberty department established and presides over the Christian World Communions (CWC).¹ CWC is a collection of 20 very large international ecumenical associations. In October, 2016, CWC, with Adventist leadership, made their “pilgrimage” to Vatican to drink the wine of Babylon.² For many years they have participated in one of the largest ecumenical international fellowships known as the World Council of Churches along with the Papacy and several hundred other religions. They try to assure the church members that there is nothing to fear, that they are not members of the WCC, but only observers for many years.³ They just watch and sip Babylonian wine at the same time. Papal Rome also is not a member but has considerable influence and power within the WCC. As a matter of fact, Pope Francis was WCC’s main speaker for their 70th anniversary in Geneva, Switzerland on June 21, 2018. Francis was the centerpiece and highlight of the conference to promote greater unity and world peace.

In recognition of the power and command of Francis at the WCC, John Allen, editor of Crux writes an article entitled, “Thoughts on the King of the Jungle and the World Council of Churches.” He chose that title as he was watching the WCC event in anticipation of Francis’ speech with his colleague, San Martin. Martin, as he watched Francis take his seat for the honored guest, said, “Yeah, and the King of the Jungle just walked into the room.”⁴ To make a statement like that is very profound because Revelation chapter 13, in essence, also sees the Papacy as the “King of the Jungle”. The Papacy is the seven headed leopard-like beast power with the mouth of a lion, known as the king of the jungle, the seventh and final earthly kingdom.

Francis later, at the WCC conference, led out in a Eucharist, Catholic Mass.⁵ It appeared that all the Protestant attendees participated in this most blasphemous service. The Catholic Mass believes that the priest has power to bring Jesus down from heaven and crucify Him at their will and miraculously turn the bread into the literal flesh of Jesus and turn the fermented red wine into the literal blood of Jesus, known as transubstantiation.

This was a very significant event for Francis to lead out in Mass at the WCC among Protestants in a city that historically played a major role in the Protestant Reformation. As a matter of fact, Geneva was a place of refuge for many persecuted Protestants from various countries of Europe to escape the tyranny of Papal Rome during the time of French reformer, John Calvin.⁶ With over 110 churches at the WCC representing over 500 million church members worldwide their participation of the Mass in Geneva was a rejection of their protestant past in a city of their former refuge and a formal acceptance of the Papacy as their mother.⁷ During Mass they literally drank from the “golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication” - Revelation 17:4.

The Bible is explicitly clear that the mother of harlots is Papal Rome. The Bible does not give any counsel to join nor drink the wine of Babylon while trying to convert them to the truth. This is impossible. For church leadership to think that this is possible is also evident that they have drunk from the Mother of harlot’s cup of wrath!

It is also evident today that the church leadership in these apostate protestant churches have been serving this Babylonian “wine of the wrath of her fornication” to their churches, schools, and institutions. The leaders are drunk and the pastors are drunk. “For their rock is not as our Rock, even our enemies themselves being judges. For their vine is of the vine of Sodom, and of the fields of Gomorrah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters are bitter: Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps” - Deuteronomy 32:31 – 33. Isaiah 27:7 – 9 says, “But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way; the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.

For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean. Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine?”

The Bible is quite clear, it is impossible to preach the straight testimonies of the everlasting gospel of the three angels while intoxicated on Babylon’s wine. Professing the three angels’ messages and the spirit of prophecy, while drinking at the ecumenical bar of the Papacy, is still an abomination and fornication against God. For many years, a few in the laity and pastors of the Adventist church have pleaded with the conference to stop drinking from Babylon’s wine. They refused and marginalized anyone who spoke up against it. Some of the pastors who stood up about it in the past are very old or dead. The great majority of the pastors today are drinking and drunk while preaching, spewing out a mixture of truth and lies and serving this spiritually toxic mixture of abominations and fornication to their church members! As a result, the whole church from the conference to the local church are drunk! Today, worldliness, pleasure seeking, false doctrines, dancing, Hollywood entertainment, homosexuality, and all abominations of Papal Rome are permeating throughout the churches and its institutions.

Because many of the members put their trust in church leadership instead of the Word, they comfortably sit idly by pretending that everything is okay. Even though some members can see some of the questionable abominations that are going on they rationalize it in their mind, “If this was wrong, wouldn’t the pastors let us know?” How can the pastor call out the abominations within his own ranks, when he is drunk himself? There are many members who put their trust in pastor “superstars” and personalities they see on Adventist TV networks and the Internet. Many worship them like idols. Sadly, they are also drunk with the same wine as their colleagues. In order to keep their status and jobs they remain quiet. As a result, God declares in Isaiah 56:10 – 12, “His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber. Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter. Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant."

What counsel does the Bible give to those who are listening to pastors who are drinking and drunk while preaching?

"Wine is a mocker [including Babylon's], strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise" - Proverbs 20:1.

"But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one no not to eat" - 1 Corinthians 5:11. "They commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evil-doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah" - Jeremiah 23:14.

"Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone. Their drink is sour: they have committed whoredom continually: her rulers with shame do love, Give ye" - Hosea 4:17-18. Those who remain quiet and support the drinking and drunk preachers and organizations are only making the problem worse by strengthening the hands of the evildoers. There will not be a true revival and reformation that comes from Babylonianolics.

In these last days we must put our full trust in Jesus as the head of his pure church and stay true to God and His Word. This is NOT the time to compromise and make excuses. We must vehemently refuse to drink the "wine of the wrath" of Babylon nor get close to its bar. We must fear God and give glory to Him, not a pastor or organization.

How to Study the Bible (part 3)

In our last article we looked at how the marginal references in our Bibles can help us when studying Scripture. We saw how they lead us from one passage to another and help us to build our understanding of a particular text or subject. Using the marginal references is only one of two main tools used to study the Bible. In this third installment on how to study the Bible we will look at how to use a Concordance.

WHAT DOES A CONCORDANCE DO?

A Concordance will list every word in the Bible and list for you every passage where that word is found in the Bible. This way you can look up each reference and see how that word is used in that passage.

Using the word "Messiah" as an example, go to the "M" section and find "Messiah". There you will see a list of every time "Messiah" is mentioned in the entire Bible and it will give you all the Bible passages that mention the word "Messiah" and this way you can look up every one of those passages and get a deeper meaning and understanding of the word "Messiah".

Special note: It is recommended to get an "exhaustive" Concordance. Not only will it list all the times any word is mentioned in the Bible but it will also tell you the original Hebrew/Aramaic/Greek word used and give you the meaning.

THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS

Let's look at some examples of using a concordance. The Rich Man and Lazarus of Luke 16 is a good example because so many Christians get hung up on this parable.

In this parable there are several key expressions and words here.

(vs. 22) "the beggar died and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom."

A good question we could ask is "Why is Abraham mentioned?" Well, let us look further into the parable.

- (vs. 24 - the rich man speaks) "And he cried and said, Father Abraham"
- (vs. 27) "Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father"
- (vs. 30) "And he said, Nay, father Abraham"

(vs. 25) "Abraham" calls the rich man "Son".

When we look at these texts we realize that what we have here is a relationship between the rich man and Abraham that is like the relationship between a Father to his Son.

How can we interpret this to know what this Father and Son relationship is talking about? What would we have to look up in a Concordance? It would be the word "Abraham".

You go and look up the name "Abraham" and find out who are the ones who called Abraham their "Father" and who Abraham called "Sons". This would lead us to John 8.

In vs. 33 and 37 the Pharisees are referred to as Abraham's seed – in other words his sons. Now notice verse 39:

"They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham."

From this passage we find that the relation between the rich man and Abraham in the parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus is really the relationship between Abraham and the Jews of Christ's day.

What about Lazarus? What does he have to do with the rich man?

"And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores." (Luke 16:21)

"Crumbs" and "dogs" are two key words that if we looked them up in a Concordance it would help us to find out what the beggar represents. We would eventually come to Matthew 15.

"And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us. But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour." (Matt. 15:22-28)

So, what does the beggar represent? The beggar represents the Gentiles. We clearly saw this by using a Concordance.

Usually parables do not use proper names such as Lazarus, but why is the name Lazarus mentioned? What would we have to do to find out why Jesus used the name Lazarus? Simply look up "Lazarus" in the Concordance. But first notice an important detail from the parable:

"And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead." (Luke 16:30, 31)

Did Jesus later on raise someone from the dead whose name was Lazarus? Yes He did and did they believe after that? They still would not believe

THE LORD'S DAY

Another example is found in Revelation 1 with the Sabbath/Sunday debate. A Concordance will help us in finding out the true Sabbath.

"I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day..." (Rev. 1:10)

Someone comes along and says "Everybody today knows that the Lord's Day is Sunday." My question to you is how will you answer that?

We could reply back "Instead of letting 21st Century man tell us what the Lord's Day is, wouldn't it be much more reasonable to let the Bible itself explain to us which is the Lord's day?"

We would go to our Concordance and start looking up the word "Sabbath" and we would eventually come to Matthew 12.

"For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day." (Matt. 12:8)

We would easily conclude if Jesus is Lord of the Sabbath day then the Sabbath is his day. Jesus is Lord and the Sabbath is the Lord's Day.

THE LAW AND TESTIMONY

We must interpret the Bible from within – from inside its own pages. In order to for us to make these connections we have to know our Bibles. We have to be able to cross reference and that involves reading the Bible – and reading it again, and again, and again. We have to memorize, look at the marginal references, and look at a Concordance. We have to also look at the Spirit of Prophecy side by side as we read our Bibles.

The reason studying the Word is not too exciting for some is because they are dedicating all the time they have to things that appear to be more exciting but really, they are a mockery. These things will not last forever and they spoil our Christian experience.

I am not a prophet or even the son of a prophet but there is one thing I can guarantee you – and that is all these things that are keeping you from serving the Lord and studying His Word, they will come back to mock you at the Sunday Law. You can guarantee it.

"It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." (Matt. 4:4)

"To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them." (Isa. 8:20)

Our absolute source of authority is the Bible. The Bible is its own interpreter. No church, no catechism, no philosopher, no historian,

Pennies Apology

Seems in this electronic age in which we can now photograph a check and type the amount into the device the check is deposited without leaving the office, however, it is not perfect. Despite us typing the numbers correctly, we have noticed that a couple checks were deposited for a few pennies more than we had claimed. We noticed this when looking at our monthly statement, that a couple checks were altered by the bank. We addressed the first one about a nickel with the bank but it seems they deemed it too expensive to return the nickel to the original owner. Just want you to know that it is not us that is trying to collect a nickel here and a dime there. Our apologies to you as we are confused to know what to do about it.

no scientist, no geologist can give the definitive explanation as to what the Bible means. The Bible must be taken on its own terms and the Bible must be allowed to explain itself from inside its own pages. We let the Bible do the explaining.

God has included within the pages of Scripture every single element that is needed to explain every passage. In other words, there is no passage that cannot be explained by another. God has made it that way.

"He who has a knowledge of God and His word has a settled faith in the divinity of the Holy Scriptures. He does not test the Bible by man's ideas of science. He brings these ideas to the test of the unerring standard. He knows that God's word is truth, and truth can never contradict itself; whatever in the teaching of so-called science contradicts the truth of God's revelation is mere human guess-work." (Testimonies, vol. 8, 325)

Once again, let us remember the two ways we can study a passage with another passage. You can get an Exhaustive Concordance and you can also use the marginal references in your Bibles.

NEXT TIME

If you remember in article #1 of this series on how to study the Bible we started out the series with the following statement: "The Bible is an organic whole in a spiritual unity." In part 4 (and the conclusion of the series) we will look at this and it will lead us back to Creation week. God Bless!

In Biblical times, bread was known as the “staff of life”. Bread is needed for physical strength to support life. The importance of bread is illustrated in the Bible story of the famine in Egypt. God had revealed to Joseph that there would be a great famine; they were to have seven years of plenty and seven years of famine. During the seven years of plenty God told Joseph to gather grain; this grain would be food during the famine. This famine was in the land of Canaan too, where Jacob lived. When Jacob knew that Egypt had grain, he sent his sons to get grain. The second time Jacob sent his sons to get grain he sent “a present, a little balm, and a little honey, spices, and myrrh, nuts, and almonds:” to the governor of Egypt, who was Joseph, in exchange for grain (Genesis 43:11). Even though Jacob had some food, he understood the importance of the grain that was used to make the bread for the strength of his household.

As we physically eat bread, we are to spiritually eat of the bread of life daily for strength. Matthew 6:11 says, “Give us this day our daily bread.” Without this bread we would die an eternal death. This bread of life is Jesus. He says in John 6:48, “I am that bread of life.” Jesus continues in verse 51 and says, “I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.” Jesus is the living bread.

“Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day” (John 6:53,54).

“He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth [abide] in me, and I in him” (John 6:56). Jesus continues in John 6:57,58, “As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me. This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.”

The children of Israel, during their journeying in the wilderness, were fed bread from heaven that they called “manna”, but, that bread was not the bread of eternal life. It satisfied their temporal wants for that moment, but for many, they were spiritually famished because they did not accept the Bread of Life. “It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God” (Matthew 4:4).

As you eat physical food and digest it and take the nutrients from it and the food becomes a part of your body, you are to abide in Christ and He in you. In John 15:4,5 Jesus says, “Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.”

Christ is the bread and He speaks words of life to the soul that has an abiding relation to Him.

His words are spoken in the Bible. They are to be studied until they are understood, then you are to apply it to your life. As no one can just see food and be nourished by it, but they must eat the food, we cannot just hear about the bread from someone else, but we must personally study and apply it for ourselves. We are to live “by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.”

As you daily eat of the Bread of Life, the character of Christ will become your character. As food supports us physically for life, so spiritually, when you eat of the Bread of life you will be strengthened to win the victory over the world. This is the relation that Jesus wants with His followers. If you are not eating of the Bread of Life, you are spiritually dead.

Many are laboring to get the riches of this world, spending their life to eat the poisonous bread of the world that will never fill them. To these Jesus says, “Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed” (John 6:27). Do not labor to get the trash of the world: but “Strive to enter in at the strait gate”. We are to seek the kingdom of God, and in order to be a part of the kingdom of God we must seek after His righteousness. We must seek the Lord with all our heart; we must strive to find truth, we must labor to eat of the bread of life; “And I say unto you,” says Jesus, “Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened” (Luke 11:9,10). If you seek to be fed the Bread of Life, ask God for this bread, and he will feed you. We are to strive to win the victory against sin through Jesus and be overcomers. Then we are to labor to let other know about the Bread of life.

In order to win the victory, we must be eating the Bread of Life. Oh, friends, strive to live a holy life in and through Jesus Christ; partake of the bread of life daily; strive through the power of Christ against sin. “Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord” (1 Corinthians 15:58). “But he that shall endure [but he that shall eat of the Bread of Life daily; he that shall strive through the power of Christ against sin] unto the end, the same shall be saved” (Matthew 24:13). “He that overcometh shall inherit all things;” says Jesus, “and I will be his God, and he shall be my son” (Revelation 21:7). This is the final reward of those who eat the Living Bread and labour for the Bread of Life. They will have the strength to be overcomers and be saved in the everlasting Kingdom of God.

What is Aluminum?

Aluminum is the second most-abundant metallic element within the earth's crust. From it, aluminum is contrived. Historically, aluminum has only been discovered and utilized for less than 150 years, which makes it one of the youngest commercial metals on the market.

Unadulterated aluminum does not occur in nature and, in fact, its purity limits its use. Because aluminum is lightweight and malleable, it must be combined with other elements, such as copper, iron, magnesium, manganese, silicon, or zinc, in order to maintain corrosive resistance, density, electrical conductivity, strength, and workability. These combinations are known as aluminum alloys and they can be found in food, water, medicines (e.g. aspirin, antacids, etc.), vaccines, personal hygiene products, and common everyday devices and tools, such as smartphones and cookware.

Aluminum Facts

- In 1787, chemists believed there was a yet-to-be-known metal element to be discovered and harvested from alum.
- In 1825, a Danish chemist named Hans Christian Oersted made the very first—but minuscule—extraction of aluminum.
- Aluminum constitutes about eight percent of the Earth's total land mass. It is the most abundant element, aside from oxygen and silicon.
- Today, Australia is the leading manufacturer of aluminum.
- For a short time, aluminum was considered a "precious metal".
- Napoleon III, Emperor of France between 1852 and 1870, temporarily considered aluminum more treasured than gold due to its novelty. For his most valued dinner guests, he insisted they use aluminum cutlery, while other guests were permitted only gold utensils.

- In the late 19th century—1884, to be exact—the Washington Monument was given an aluminum cap, as aluminum was not only incredibly versatile, but also still considered “precious” even 60 years after its initial discovery.
- Aluminum is fully recyclable. Producing secondary aluminum from recycled aluminum conserves 95% of the energy that would normally be used to produce it fresh—directly from alumina (aluminum oxide).
- When recycled, an aluminum biproduct is made, which is known as white dross. It is highly combustible and can be toxic. Until recent regulations on its recycling and disposal were developed, recycling agencies and aluminum manufacturers commonly dumped their white dross in landfills, which equated to nearly five million tons each year! Recently, new methods have arisen that bypass older methods and return the white dross to its aluminum oxide form, which is used in concrete, dyes, explosives, fertilizers(?!?!), and paint.
- In 1903, the very first “anti-perspirant” was launched by the deodorant brand Everdry. From that point on, thanks to a grand marketing scheme meant to convince the public that they smelled bad, Americans especially took to the new aluminum-based deodorant with ease.

- Today, the top two leading anti-perspirant deodorant brands are Degree and Secret. Their highest-selling products—Degree Men and Secret Clinical Strength—contain high levels of aluminum.
- Another invention in 1903 was the Wea-rEver brand’s aluminum cookware (e.g. pots and pans), which was touted as cheaper and more heat-balancing than its contemporary stainless steel competitor.
- In 1910, Dr. Lauber, Neher & Co., located in Switzerland, developed the very first form of aluminum foil—metal leaves with a thickness less than 0.2mm—for cooking and food storage. (Many mistake “aluminum foil” for “tin foil.” The two are not synonymous.)
- Today, China is the leading manufacturer of aluminum foil.
- Around 1926, immunologist Alexander Glennie discovered that aluminum salts induced a strong immune response (localized inflammation) at the injection site. This soon sparked the idea of integrating aluminum salts in animal and human vaccines because it seemed to increase the efficacy of the vaccine ingredients within the blood.

- In 1932, aluminum was used for the first time in human vaccines and was the only vaccine adjuvant for nearly 70 years. However, it wasn’t until 1975 that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) granted “GRAS” status to 11 different aluminum compounds, including aluminum hydroxide and aluminum phosphate. (GRAS = “Generally Regarded As Safe.”)
- In 1957, the very first concept for the inclusion of aluminum in metal canning (i.e. soup cans, paint cans, etc.) was introduced.
- In 1959, Eral Frazee of Kettering, Ohio invented the “easy open can.” This henceforth set the stage for future aluminum beverage containers (released to the public after 1960), which were significantly lighter and softer than other aluminum-based cans used primarily for food stuffs and industrial vessels.
- In 1962, the beverage can “pull-tab” was introduced to retail and, as they say, the rest is history.

Anti-Perspirants and Breast Cancer

Several studies have led many scientists to believe that underarm cosmetics (anti-perspirant deodorants) that contain aluminum salts are responsible for the rising breast cancer rates. Clinical studies have confirmed that the highest incidence of breast cancer is localized in the upper outer quadrant of the breast—precisely where the absorption and distribution of anti-perspirant agents would take place after topical application.

What is seen in that area of the breast within cancer patients is genomic instability, which is a high frequency of mutations within the genome. Put simply, the cells of the breast tissues have been manipulated, causing a disturbance or a derailing of their regular processes. Because aluminum—alone or even together with its alloyed components, such as zinc—is known to be genotoxic and capable of causing DNA alterations and epigenetic effects (negative changes in a chromosome that affect gene activity and expression), the most-likely culprit for the genomic instability seen in breast cancer patients within the upper outer quadrant of the breast could be none other than aluminum—or anti-perspirants.

In addition, while it is well-established that oestrogen plays a major role in breast cancer, the fact remains that aluminum—specifically the common anti-perspirant ingredients: aluminum chloride and aluminum chlorhydrate—can interfere (and do) with the proper function (e.g. ligand binding and the regulation of gene expression) of oestrogen receptors in human breast cells. In other words, aluminum salts, without a doubt, are fully capable of interfering with not only the cells of the breast but also the very important role that oestrogen plays in breast health.

Scientists have now added aluminum (in any form) to the list of metalloestrogens, which is a list of metals that interfere with oestrogen function and cause a wide array of systematic issues to hormone-related health throughout the body.

Despite this and their pleas for more focused studies to affirm or deny their concerns—so that they may confidently warn the public against the use of anti-perspirants—their findings and their interest in future studies is largely ignored. Regardless of the linking evidence and how many studies are proposed, funding is refused. Official sources deny past and current claims and insist that aluminum is safe both topically and internally. The rising rates of breast cancer since the introduction of anti-perspirants, however, tells a much different story.

NEED A RECEIPT?

We will be happy to provide you with a receipt but please indicate that you would like to receive one. Many give without claiming it on their taxes. Personally, I would so as to have more to give. But for us to mail a receipt to those that do not use such would be a waste of God's funds. So do not hesitate to ask, and even if you already gave, we have record of it, so if you still want a receipt, just ask.

Note: To make matters worse, studies are also showing that mothers who are using anti-perspirants—or who have used them in the past—have absorbed the aluminum transdermally and are passing—or have passed—that aluminum on to their children during pregnancy and breastfeeding.

Aluminum Adjuvants in Vaccines

The current amount of aluminum permitted by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is 0.85mg per dose (or 850mcg/dose). This decision was not based on any safety standard or evidence of safety when it comes to aluminum injected within the body. Instead, it was chosen by how effectively that level of aluminum triggers a sustained immune response to injected antigens. To date, not one single study or shred of evidence has been published or supplied by the scientific community that addresses whether or not 0.85mg is a safe amount.

In fact, when it comes to any process within the pharmaceutical realm, the basic rule involved in developing medications of any kind—whether topical or internal—is to perform experimental studies to determine whether there are adverse effects and at what dosage the ingredient causes those effects. When an ingredient is evaluated and found to cause a detrimental effect on the subject, experimenters lower the dose of the ingredient until they discover at what level the ingredient is safe. At that point, the “safe” level of that ingredient is labeled as NOAEL (No Observed Adverse Effect Level) and the “almost dangerous” level of that ingredient is labeled MADL (Maximum Allowable Dose Level). When it comes to the inclusion of aluminum in vaccines, however, these methods of measuring safety have been completely avoided.

It gets worse. While each vaccine dose contains a maximum 0.85mg, the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) strongly propose a vaccine schedule of multiple vaccines starting two months after birth. What is alarming is that some healthcare professionals have convinced parents to hand their newborns over for one or more of these starter vaccines only hours after birth!

The “safe limit” proposed by the FDA is 5 micrograms/day but, considering that the average weight for newborns is 7.5 lbs. (which supposedly permits 17.5 micrograms/day) and that the vaccine most frequently administered hours after birth (HepB) contains 250 micrograms of aluminum, these day-old newborns are being injected with aluminum adjuvants that exceed the “safe limit” 14x over!

At two months, the average weight is 11 lbs. (which supposedly permits 25 micrograms/day) but the CDC schedule insists on injecting these children with vaccines (DTap, IPV, HepB, PCV, Hib) that contain 1200 micrograms of aluminum adjuvants, which exceeds the “safe limit” 48x over!

As the child ages, the CDC insists upon even more vaccines at certain milestones. It also insists that the flu vaccine (containing aluminum) be given every year throughout the lifespan and that many of the vaccines and vaccine boosters that contain aluminum adjuvants be repeatedly administered throughout childhood and far into adulthood.

Forty years ago, children received only four aluminum-containing vaccines in their first 18 months of life; today, they receive 17 aluminum-containing vaccines in those first 18 months. By 18 months of age, an infant has received at least 4,925 micrograms of aluminum! By 18 years, a young adult has received at least 6,150 micrograms of aluminum! (That is not including any flu vaccines or repeat vaccines due to lost medical records for new school attendance or local outbreaks of diseases and illnesses that should have been covered by vaccines.)

The level of aluminum administered to infants is beyond worrisome, considering humans are already exposed to a significant increase of aluminum within varied everyday environments now than ever before throughout the course of history. On top of the aluminum in vaccines, infants from 0–6 months are subjected to an average of 7 milligrams of aluminum in breast milk (transferred from the mother who has been vaccinated or who uses anti-perspirants), 38 milligrams of aluminum in dairy-based formula, and nearly 117 milligrams of aluminum in soy-based formula!

While those levels of ingested aluminum are cause for concern, they are nothing compared to the levels of aluminum injected into children. The human body will only absorb between 0.2–1.5% of ingested aluminum, but any aluminum that is injected into the blood will be absorbed fully—100%!

It is no wonder that a vast number of parents, healthcare professionals, and scientists are now suspicious of vaccines, especially the metals they contain, as they look at the statistical increase of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS), neurological disorders, cancers, autoimmune diseases, and other chronic diseases now strangely affecting children like never before.

Aluminum Foil, Cookware, Beverage Containers, and Alzheimer's

Alzheimer's and other neurological disorders and brain-degenerative diseases have long been linked to aluminum through study after study, but funding is rare and permission has yet to be granted to scientists who are willing to take studies one step further and prove or disprove the suspicion once and for all.

It has been well-established that victims who died from (or with) such conditions were discovered to harbor large accumulations of aluminum compounds in their brains. A study conducted in Canada, for instance, revealed that the brain tissue from deceased Alzheimer's patients contained 2–3x more aluminum than normal brains. Much like the aluminum correlations found in anti-perspirants and vaccines, findings such as this are shrugged off as mere coincidence.

While no study has yet to conclude the matter on aluminum and disorders and diseases of the brain, there has been a significant increase of such conditions ever since aluminum became a staple in the kitchen (and since the majority of vaccines came on the scene, as well).

Cooking with aluminum pots, pans, and baking sheets, using aluminum utensils, and wrapping food in aluminum foil for cooking or food storage is such a prevailing habit in most households that the seemingly laughable absorption rate of 0.2–1.5% of ingested aluminum does not seem so funny anymore—especially since studies have shown that aluminum exposure through food will accumulate to some extent in the bones (60%), lungs (25%), muscles (10%), liver (3%), and brain (1%) of all exposed.

Because metals are easily dissolved by acids and most diets contain acidic foods, aluminum is the secret ingredient in most meals, snacks, and canned beverages. This is called “leaching” and it depends on the pH of the food, salt, and spices,

Authorized KJV vs Catholic Bible

Jerry O'Donnell

- Author of What Does It Mean For the World To Have One Mind?
- Bible Worker, Evangelist, Pastor, Church Planter

If you are using anything but the KJV, you are using a Catholic influenced Bible [see June 2017 issue for details], which strategically twists and leaves out key words and verses so as to make even the ecumenical movement between religions outside of Christianity possible.

This month we will look at Matthew 9:13. Just what are sinners called for?

King James Version: But go ye and learn what [that] meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

Sinners are called to repentance. That means a person is to stop sinning and be sorry for having done it in the first place. By omitting "to repentance" then it appears, and intended to be that way, that those who do live a righteous life after repenting are some how now no longer called for the verse does say that Jesus does not call the righteous, therefore, everyone is encouraged to remain sinning because only sinners are called. That is nowhere near what that verse means. The righteous are the self-righteous that claim their works earn Heaven and they have nothing to repent of. They cannot see their sins. Even true commandment keepers know that all their commandment keeping does not earn Heaven. Commandment keeping is the fruit of grace. It is appreciation for being forgiven. So, no wonder those that adhere to the versions below are all confused about sinning.

New International Version - But go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice.' For I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

New Living Translation - Then he added, "Now go and learn the meaning of this Scripture: 'I want you to show mercy, not offer sacrifices.' For I have come to call not those who think they are righteous, but those who know they are sinners."

English Standard Version - Go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.' For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."

Berean Study Bible - But go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice.' For I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

Berean Literal Bible - But having gone, learn what is, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice.' For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."

New American Standard Bible - "But go and learn what this means: 'I DESIRE COMPASSION, AND NOT SACRIFICE,' for I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

Christian Standard Bible - Go and learn what this means: I desire mercy and not sacrifice. For I didn't come to call the righteous, but sinners."

Contemporary English Version - Go and learn what the Scriptures mean when they say, 'Instead of offering sacrifices to me, I want you to be merciful to others.' I didn't come to invite good people to be my followers. I came to invite sinners."

Good News Translation - Go and find out what is meant by the scripture that says: 'It is kindness that I want, not animal sacrifices.' I have not come to call respectable people, but outcasts."

Holman Christian Standard Bible - Go and learn what this means: I desire mercy and not sacrifice. For I didn't come to call the righteous, but sinners."

International Standard Version - Go and learn what this means: 'I want mercy and not sacrifice,' because I did not come to call righteous people, but sinners."

NET Bible - Go and learn what this saying means: 'I want mercy and not sacrifice.' For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

New Heart English Bible - But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."

Aramaic Bible in Plain English - "Go learn what this says, 'I require mercy and not a sacrifice', for I have not come to call the righteous but sinners."

GOD'S WORD® Translation - Learn what this means: 'I want mercy, not sacrifices.' I've come to call sinners, not people who think they have God's approval."

New American Standard 1977 - "But go and learn what this means, 'I DESIRE COMPASSION, AND

NOT SACRIFICE,' for I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

American Standard Version - But go ye and learn what this meaneth, I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

Douay-Rheims Bible - Go then and learn what this meaneth, I will have mercy and not sacrifice. For I am not come to call the just, but sinners.

Darby Bible Translation - But go and learn what [that] is -- I will have mercy and not sacrifice; for I

You can use almost any spray bottle or even a plant mister.

To make your own herbal spray air freshener, first wash the container thoroughly. Then fill it with water (use pure if it's also going to come in contact with human skin or foods; do not use the spray on skin within 12 hours of exposure to sun) and add a pinch of salt or 1-2 drops of liquid soap (to make the water and essential oils mix), add 5 to 7 drops of an essential oil (or combination of oils) per 8 ounces of water.

Here Are Some Suggested Blends:

- Country Spice -
Cinnamon, Ginger, Vanilla, Bay
- Spring Morning -
Lavender, Rose, Geranium, Rosemary,

- Sweet Orange
- Earthy - Sage, Thyme, Cedar, Patchouli, Frankincense
- Romance - Vanilla, Sandalwood, Ylang Ylang, Jasmine, Neroli, Rose
- Far East - Patchouli, Cedar, Sandalwood, Lime, Coriander
- Energizing - Basil, Lavender, Orange, Nutmeg, Mint
- Calming - Bergamot, Geranium, Clary Sage, Chamomile, Yarrow
- Gardener's Paradise - Lemon, Orange, Basil, Thyme

You can also use these as a vegetable wash too.

Bleach Alternative

IMAGE REMOVED

Ingredients/Equipment

4 cups hot water
2/3 cup washing soda
1-2 cups 3% hydrogen peroxide
10 drops lemon essential oil (find it at www.realoil.com – be sure to say I sent you)

3-5 gallon bucket (optional)

How To Make:

Add essential oil to washing soda and stir thoroughly until the drops are well distributed. Add washing soda/lemon oil to hot water and stir until the washing soda is completely dissolved. In a separate container, measure out 1-2 cups hydrogen peroxide.

How To Use:

I prefer to use this bleach alternative in concentrated form, so I pour the hot washing soda mixture into a large bucket (3-5 gallons), then add 28 cups room temperature water and 1-2 cups of hydrogen peroxide. Place your laundry in the bucket and soak overnight, then wash as normal. If needed, repeat the process – old, set-in stains sometimes need more time to loosen up.

For a less concentrated form, you could add the washing soda mixture to your washing machine and select the “small” setting for your load size. Cool/room temperature water is best, because heat degrades the hydrogen peroxide. When the cool water has mixed with the hot water, add in the hydrogen peroxide. Place clothes in the washing machine and allow to soak before washing as usual – overnight is best.

Storage:

Because minerals found in water can accelerate the breakdown of hydrogen peroxide, I recommend making up batches as needed so that the hydrogen peroxide is as strong as possible.

US Secretary of State announces major religious freedom meeting

Comment: At the end of July, there is going to be a first time ever meeting on working out the details of pushing the version of religious freedom as defined by the US. Headed by a Catholic, we can only imagine it is a vehicle to pave the way for Sunday law. Even so, the activity of the US pushing religion of one form or another under the guise of "freedom" is union of church and state. Pushing economic policy, relational policies, trade policies, etc. are all state policies, but getting involved in religion makes it church and state even if it is disguised as a security interest.

"The prophecy of Revelation 13 declares that the power represented by the beast with lamb-like horns shall cause 'the earth and them which dwell therein' to worship the papacy—there symbolized by the beast 'like unto a leopard.' The beast with two horns is also to say 'to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast;' and, furthermore, it is to command all, 'both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond,' to receive 'the mark of the beast.' [Revelation 13:11-16.] It has been shown that the United States is the power represented by the beast with lamb-like horns, and that this prophecy will be fulfilled when the United States shall enforce Sunday observance, which Rome claims as the special acknowledgment of her supremacy. But in this homage to papacy the United States will not be alone. The influence of Rome in the countries that once acknowledged her dominion, is still far from being destroyed. And prophecy foretells a restoration of her power. 'I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed; and all the world wondered after the beast.' [Revelation 13:3.] The infliction of the deadly wound points to the abolition of the papacy in 1798. After this, says the prophet, 'His deadly wound was healed; and all the world wondered after the beast.' Paul states plainly that the man of sin will continue until the second advent. [2 Thessalonians 2:8.] To the very close of time he will carry forward his work of deception. And the Revelator declares, also referring to the papacy, 'All that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life.' [Revelation 13:8.] In both the Old and the New World, papacy will receive homage in the honor paid to the Sunday institution, that rests solely upon the authority of the Romish Church." {GC88 578.3}

Pope applauds patriarch's call to protect the planet, protect people Comment: Of course the pope applauds all support, especially from very influential leaders, that go along with his encyclical. Support for the Mark of the Beast is coming from all angles. "If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive [his] mark in his forehead, or in his hand, The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name" (Revelation 14:9-11).

Analysis: Cardinal Parolin, Vatican secretary of state, at the elite Bilderberg meeting

Comment: From the article, it is said: "This year's meeting is set to discuss populism in Europe, the challenges of inequality, the future of work, artificial intelligence, US mid-term elections, free trade, US global leadership, Russia, quantum computing, Saudi Arabia and Iran, the post-truth world, and other current events."

US has the attention twice but one is the biblical recognized position... Global Leader for how else could the US "causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed" (Revelation 13:12)?

Trade is on the list for "the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies" (Revelation 18:3).

And why "post-truth world"? Because "it cast down the truth to the ground; and it practised, and prospered" (Daniel 8:12).

And this article is loaded with interesting tidbits for they also announced that it is the FIRST TIME that a high-ranking Vatican official would be involved. That means that we even closer to seeing "his deadly wound was healed" (Revelation 13:3). They believe they have the influential power over this organization, otherwise, it would be a waste of time.

Sessions invokes the Bible to defend separation of families at the border

Comment: Revelation 13:14 "And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by [the means of] those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live." Forming the image is happening right before our eyes.

"Prophecy represents Protestantism as having lamb-like horns, but speaking like a dragon. Already we are beginning to hear the voice of the dragon. There is a satanic force propelling the Sunday movement, but it is concealed. Even the men who are engaged in the work, are themselves blinded to the results which will follow their movement. Let not the commandment-keeping people of God be silent at this time, as though we gracefully accepted the situation. There is the prospect before us, of waging a continuous war, at the risk of imprisonment, of losing property and even life itself, to defend the law of God, which is being made void by the laws of men. This Bible text will be quoted to us, 'Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. . . . The powers that be are ordained of God.'" {RH, January 1, 1889 par. 4}

At Road To Majority, Religious Right Cheers: 'We Are Transforming The Court System Of This Country'

Comment: "Through fraud and falsehood Satan is now using those who claim to be Christians to divorce the world from God's mercy. They are working in blindness. They do not see that if a Protestant government sacrifices the principles that have made them a free, independent nation, and through legislation brings into the Constitution, principles that will propagate papal falsehood and papal delusion, they are plunging into the Roman horrors of the Dark Ages. But this need not be, just at this point of time, if the church is aroused to her duty and her work. A vast responsibility is devolving upon men and women of prayer throughout the land, to petition that God may sweep back this cloud of evil, and give a few more years of grace to work for the Master." {RH, December 11, 1888 par. 13}

Pope Francis 'a strong voice' for all Christians: inter-church group

Comment: "As we approach the last crisis, it is of vital moment that harmony and unity exist among the Lord's instrumentalities. The world is filled with storm and war and variance. Yet under one head--the papal power--the people will unite to oppose God in the person of His witnesses." {Mar 187.2}

"What is it that gives its kingdom to this power? Protestantism, a power which, while professing to have the temper and spirit of a lamb and to be allied to Heaven, speaks with the voice of a dragon. It is moved by a power from beneath." {Mar 187.3}

"These have one mind.' There will be a universal bond of union, one great harmony, a confederacy of Satan's forces. 'And shall give their power and strength unto the beast.' Thus is manifested the same arbitrary, oppressive power against religious liberty, freedom to worship God according to the dictates of conscience, as was manifested by the papacy, when in the past it persecuted those who dared to refuse to conform with the religious rites and ceremonies of Romanism." {Mar 187.4}

Thoughts on the King of the Jungle and the World Council of Churches

Comment: "Trial and persecution will come to all who, in obedience to the Word of God, refuse to worship this false sabbath. Force is the last resort of every false religion. At first it tries attraction, as the king of Babylon tried the power of music and outward show. If these attractions, invented by men inspired by Satan, failed to make men worship the image, the hungry flames of the furnace were ready to consume them. So it will be now. The Papacy has exercised her power to compel men to obey her, and she will continue to do so. We need the same spirit that was manifested by God's servants in the conflict with paganism. Giving an account of the treatment of the Christians by the emperor of Rome, Tertullian says, 'We are thrown to the wild beasts to make us recant; we are burned in the flames; we are condemned to prisons and to mines; we are banished to islands,--such as Patmos,--and all have failed.' So it was in the case of the three Hebrew worthies; their eye was single to the glory of God; their souls were steadfast; the power of the truth held them firmly to their allegiance to God. It is in the power of God alone that we shall be enabled to be loyal to him." {ST, May 6, 1897 par. 16}

QUESTION: Is Ellen White's writings the lesser light compared to the Bible?

ANSWER: Absolutely not. That would mean the gift of prophecy that Ellen White experienced is different from Elijah, John the Baptist, and all the other prophets. The following quote of hers puts things into perspective:

"The Lord has sent His people much instruction, line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little, and there a little. Little heed is given to the Bible, and the Lord has given a lesser light to lead men and women to the greater light. Oh, how much good would be accomplished if the books containing this light were read with a determination to carry out the principles they contain! There would be a thousandfold greater vigilance, a thousandfold more self-denial and resolute effort. And many more would now be rejoicing in the light of present truth." {CM 125.2}

The Bible is also a lesser light for Jesus is the greater light. "Greater and still greater light is beaming with celestial brightness from the Redeemer's face upon His representatives, to be diffused through the darkness of a benighted world." {8T 40.1}

The phrase "lesser light" is that which is tainted by human frailty. That does not mean there is error, but what it means is that the words the writers use cannot fully reveal the glory of God. Only God can do that.

QUESTION: Should we write Doug Bachelor on the issues that he may be confused upon?

ANSWER: I would never discourage reaching out to someone in that manner, however, I have heard from several people that used to have good communications with him and now he no longer returns their calls or letters, even in e-mail form.

"No one has said that we shall find perfection in any man's investigations, but this I do know, that our churches are dying for the want of teaching on the subject of righteousness by faith in Christ, and for kindred truths." R & H March 25, 1890

"Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel" (Mark 1:14, 15). Repentance is associated with faith and is urged in the gospel as essential to salvation. Paul preached repentance. He said, "I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house, testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ" (Acts 20:20, 21). There is no salvation without repentance. No impenitent sinner can believe with his heart unto righteousness. Repentance is described by Paul as a godly sorrow for sin that "worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of" (2 Corinthians 7:10). This repentance has in it nothing of the nature of merit, but it prepares the heart for the acceptance of Christ as the only Saviour, the only hope of the lost sinner.

As the sinner looks to the law, his guilt is made plain to him and pressed home to his conscience, and he is condemned. His only comfort and hope is found in looking to the cross of Calvary. As he ventures upon the promises, taking God at His word, relief and peace come to his soul. He cries, "Lord, Thou hast promised to save all who come unto Thee in the name of Thy Son. I am a lost, helpless, hopeless soul. Lord, save, or I perish." His faith lays hold on Christ, and he is justified before God.

"But while God can be just, and yet justify the sinner through the merits of Christ, no man can cover his soul with the garments of Christ's righteousness while practicing known sins or neglecting known duties. God requires the entire surrender of the heart, before justification can take place; and in order for man to retain justification, there must be continual obedience, through active, living faith that works by love and purifies the soul." _{FW 100.1}

"James writes of Abraham and says, 'Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect? And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God. Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only' (James 2:21-24). In order for man to be justified

by faith, faith must reach a point where it will control

the affections and impulses

of the heart;

and it is by obedience

that faith itself is made perfect. Without the grace of Christ, the sinner is in a hopeless condition; nothing can be done for him; but through divine grace, supernatural power is imparted to the man and works in mind and heart and character. It is through the impartation of the grace of Christ that sin is discerned in its hateful nature and finally driven from the soul temple. It is through grace that we are brought into fellowship with Christ, to be associated with Him in the work of salvation. Faith is the condition upon which

God has seen fit to promise pardon to sinners; not that there is any virtue in faith whereby salvation is merited, but because faith can lay hold of the merits of Christ, the remedy provided for sin. Faith can pre- sent Christ's perfect obedience instead of the sinner's transgression and defection.

not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness' (Romans 4:3-5).

Righteousness is obedience to the law. The law demands righteousness, and this the sinner owes to the law;

but he is incapable of rendering it. The only way in which he can attain to righteousness is through faith.

By faith he can bring to God the merits of Christ, and the Lord places the obedience of

His Son to the

Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

Mark 1:14-15

When the sinner believes that Christ is his personal Saviour, then according to His unailing promises, God pardons his sin and justifies him freely. The repentant soul realizes that his justification comes because Christ, as his Substitute and Surety, has died for him, is his atonement and righteousness." {FW 100.3}

"Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness. Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. But to him that worketh

Christ's righteousness is accepted in place of man's failure, and God receives, pardons, justifies, the repentant, believing soul, treats him as though he were righteous, and loves him as He loves His Son. This is how faith is accounted righteousness; and the pardoned soul goes on from grace to grace, from light to a greater light. He can say with rejoicing, 'Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; which He shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour; that being justified by His grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life” (Titus 3:5-7). {FW 101.1}

“Again: it is written, ‘But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name: which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God’ (John 1:12, 13). Jesus declared, ‘Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God’ (John 3:3). ‘Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God’ (verse 5). It is not a low standard that is placed before us, for we are to become the children of God. We are to be saved as individuals, and in the day of test and trial we shall be able to discern between him that serveth God and him that serveth Him not. We are saved as individual believers in the Lord Jesus Christ.” {FW 101.2}

“Many are losing the right way, in consequence of thinking that they must climb to heaven, that they must do something to merit the favor of God. They seek to make themselves better by their own unaided efforts. This they can never accomplish. Christ has made the way by dying our Sacrifice, by living our Example, by becoming our great High Priest. He declares, ‘I am the way, the truth, and the life’ (John 14:6). If by any effort of our own we could advance one step toward the ladder, the words of Christ would not be true. But when we accept Christ, good works will appear as fruitful evidence that we are in the way of life, that Christ is our way, and that we are treading the true path that leads to heaven.” {Faith & Works 102.1}

Jesuit Pope Aims to Gather Wealth, Regulate Financial Market to Undo Capitalism and Protestantism

Chapter 18 of Revelation indicates that Roman Catholicism, depicted in scripture as Mystery Babylon, will control the merchants of the earth and be in a position where it oversees the finances of the world in the last days (verses 2 and 3). It is no surprise that Vatican officials and even the Pope are always denouncing the current financial system in the western world and calling for economic restructuring. Certainly,

Pope Francis is uninhibited about decrying the “evils” of capitalism and has not once called for a “new economic order,” [1] warning of economic collapse if things continue the way they are. To avert a collapse, “The Vatican is calling for an impartial authority to regulate financial markets, so they do not create a greater poverty.” [2] The fact that a church, the most influential church, is seeking to regulate businesses should cause much concern. It is not difficult to discern that the Vatican is asserting itself as that “impartial” regulatory authority. Because Roman Catholicism is a church, its regulations would come through the prism of the doctrines and traditions of the church. But can they get away with it is the question. Consider that no denomination enjoys the privileges that Roman Catholicism does, such as being an active voice at the United Nations and also being afforded the opportunity to have its leader speak before a joint session of the United States congress as Pope Francis did in 2015. As with many other social and even political issues that have government leaders perplexed and desperate to find solutions, they are looking for a “moral” authority to provide direction; and oh, how readily Roman Catholicism will come to their aid.

A May 17 article on Bloomberg under the title of “Pope calls derivatives market a ‘ticking time bomb,’” states “now Pope Francis, of all people, is taking aim at derivatives... ‘A ticking time bomb,’ the Vatican called them. The unusual rebuke -- derivatives rarely reach the level of religious doctrine -- is in keeping with Francis’s skeptical view of unbridled global capitalism... The Vatican said that in certain areas of the derivatives markets there is an ‘ethical void.’” [3] In the new economic, regulatory order proposed by the Roman Catholic Church, capitalism or private enterprise must be done away. When capitalism is destroyed, the buying and selling is no longer controlled by private business owners but can be controlled by a regulatory agency, which would be Roman Catholicism. This is clear evidence that the Mark of the Beast crisis written of in Revelation 13:15-17 is not far distant, which has everything to do with dictating (regulating) who, how and when individuals can buy and sell; and the Mark of the Beast begins in America, a capitalist society. The Beast of Revelation 13 unequivocally identifies Roman Catholicism and highlights the church's cardinal doctrine, Sunday worship, and will mandate that everyone observe Sunday or lose his/her privilege of buying and selling.

Consider the Sunday shopping ban that has taken effect in Poland, and the role that capitalism played in initially and formerly allowing Sunday shopping, which it was stated that "Poland's move... could provide a constructive example for the United States, where the network of state 'blue laws' that once restricted Sunday business activities has been substantially reduced." [4] "Stores remained shuttered all over Poland as the country's new Sunday shopping ban went into effect on March 11. The new law will be introduced in stages...But in 2020, they will be shut every Sunday..."

Traditionally Poles have spent Sundays in church...Ironically, Sunday shopping began only when democracy and capitalism returned to Poland." [5] It must not be forgotten that America in 1989 was instrumental in the falling of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of communism which ushered capitalism into Poland and other communist countries. Ironically, the United States joined forces with Popery (under John Paul II) to accomplish this; however, in the last days, the United States will unite with Popery to undo capitalism and usher in the National Sunday Law, the Mark of the Beast.

Hence, this new economic order that Pope Francis and the Vatican are calling for would institute Sunday shopping bans, no buying and selling, and mandatory Sunday worship. Perhaps you may be wondering who specifically, besides Pope Francis in the Vatican, is proposing this authority to regulate financial markets. By its own, unapologetic admission, it is the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, headed by Luis Ladaria. Notice the following from Rome Reports, "The Holy See is asking through an official document on ethics and financial markets, prepared by two large departments of the Curia: the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, and the Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development. It has personally been approved by the pope and is entitled 'Economic and Financial Issues.'" [6] What exactly is The Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith you may be wondering. You might be astonished to discover that it is the modern name for the ancient Papal Inquisition Board. But why take our word for it when you can hear it from papists themselves? "Fr. Di Noia's gloss on history is significant because the Congregation of the Doctrine of the Faith is the successor body to the Inquisition... Interviewed in the documentary, The Secret Files of the Inquisition, Fr Di Noia says: 'It was a mistake to torture people. However, torture was regarded as a perfectly justified, legitimate way of producing evidence and it was therefore legally justified.'" [7]

It is no wonder that the modern Inquisition Board along with a Jesuit Pope would have such vested interest in controlling the world's economy, considering the aims and operations of both, namely to secure wealth for the overthrow of Protestantism and to enforce her decrees using instruments of torture. Therefore, whosoever opposes the new economic order will be tortured and killed. The very fact that the board is still in existence is a clear indicator that its mission is not yet complete, and when necessary she will revive her former persecutions. "Vowed to perpetual poverty and humility, it was their [the Jesuits] studied aim to secure wealth and power, to be devoted to the overthrow of Protestantism, and the re-establishment of the papal supremacy... It was a fundamental principle of the order that the end justifies the means. By this code, lying, theft, perjury, assassination, were not only pardonable but commendable, when they served the interests of the church." [8] "In the days of Rome's supremacy there were

By this code, lying, theft, perjury, assassination, were not only pardonable but commendable, when they served the interests of the church. Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of State, climbing up to be the counselors of kings, and shaping the policy of nations.

instruments of torture to compel assent to her doctrines. There was the stake for those who would not concede to her claims. There were massacres on a scale that will never be known until revealed in the judgment. Dignitaries of the church studied, under Satan their master, to invent means to cause the greatest possible torture and not end the life of the victim. In many cases the infernal process was repeated to the utmost limit of human endurance, until nature gave up the struggle, and the sufferer hailed death as a sweet release." [9]

A final confirming note that this economic authority being called for is not impartial, but a religious order that will mandate religious laws is the fact that it is being promulgated for the sake of the common good, a Roman Catholic social teaching [10] that compels citizens to give up their individual rights for the sake of the community. Incidentally the common good is connected with Sunday worship and was preached before a joint session of congress by Pope Francis in 2015. Bible prophecy is fulfilling before our very eyes; get ready, get ready, get ready!

as well as the level of heat applied to the food and the aluminum cookware or container. People unknowingly ingest over 50 milligrams of aluminum from their food each day. If they feel the need to take antacids or aspirin, they have increased that daily intake by well over 5 grams!

Conclusion

Since aluminum is such a common ingredient and compound that we are all exposed to each day, whether it is in vaccines, personal hygiene products, cookware, or the environment in general, some amount of accumulation in the body is unavoidable. It is important then to limit aluminum exposure as much as possible.

The easiest solutions to avoid accumulating more aluminum throughout your lifetime is to: 1) research and become informed about the ingredients of vaccines; 2) switch to natural deodorants instead of anti-perspirants; and 3) replace all cookware and cooking utensils with stainless steel or ceramic.

I beseech the reader to make informed decisions about what they permit to be injected in their bodies and the bodies of their children, as well as what they use on their bodies and in their kitchens.

prophecy. It is easy to form a different group be it Free, Reformed, or whatever. Why? Because there are plenty of documents to gather, and even some hints that Ellen White endorsed them.

You know, the Bible hints at baptism for the dead (1 Corinthians 15:29) that the Mormons practice, but we do not practice that because a doctrine ought not be based upon a hint.

“All these truths are immortalized in my writings. The Lord never denies His word. Men may get up scheme after scheme, and the enemy will seek to seduce souls from the truth, but all who believe that the Lord has spoken through Sister White, and has given her a message, will be safe from the many delusions that will come in in these last days.” {8MR 320.2}

She did not pen one word about being safe in the pioneer writings no matter who she directly or indirectly endorsed. Therefore, if it is not clearly immortalized in her writings, which means to be absolutely clear without a doubt, then leave it alone even if it be truth. Turkey is nowhere directly mentioned by Ellen White as prophetically fulfilling Daniel 11, though there is a hint, even an apparent endorsement. The 2520 is nowhere directly and unquestionably revealed by Ellen White, though there is a hint. There are numerous quotes on how the Holy Spirit makes up the “Heavenly Trio”, so what looks like a clear quote, being that it is not a major theme throughout, leave it alone.

Although we are counselled to read republished works of the early pioneers, let us put aside all the arguments that are mostly pioneer driven and yet the Spirit of Prophecy is either silent upon or only hints at a possible endorsement. If it is that worthy of attention, God would have inspired Ellen White to write much about the subject. The endorsement to republish the works of the pioneers was in support of the major doctrines that we have: the Sanctuary, 2300 days prophecy, the Sabbath, keeping the commandments, antichrist, mark of the beast, etc. That which causes division and would still cause division ought not be dwelt upon.

Basically, this is Satan's way of going after those that are trying to stay so true to the Word of God and the Spirit of Prophecy. He is causing theories to form in a manner that seems to be the main belief of most pioneers. Just remember, on a number of occasions, the majority of the then leadership were in error on topics and Ellen White would go off in vision and settle the matter by the voice of God. These are only division causing arguments especially when I see the arguments all over the Internet condemning one another to hell or at least to following the antichrist if they are not part of the Turkey belief, 2520, the belief God the Father is the only one who is really God, that the GC is now part of Babylon, etc.

May God help us to stay united on the major points of doctrine in
